Navron Buduth Caliboun, Warren Russell Oder, Walter Frederick Petry, Frank Leo Devine, Edward Perry Lee. That all were popular and that the pinterseted in the wifare of the City was evidenced by the very large saeembled at the Opera-house to with

monts each, who had made the hest general strenge during the year.

Judging from the manner in which those on whom the homor fill required themselves,— is the delivery of eways and orations, the emporation and beauty of thought sepressed, keeping in tooks with the past, present and future,—the Class of 90 must be the hanner one of all that have left the High School.

The opening of the program, after choice extections by the Mayaville Orchestra, was a prety march which brought the graduating class and members of Juoior grades of the school on the hondowns stage where all joined in a chorus.

This was followed by invocation by the Rev.

ONE CENT. The funeral services of Mr. Lewis William took place this Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the Lewisburg Baptat Church with services by the Rev. Hugh F. Searcy. Mr Williams died in general debility, and is survived by one son and one daughter.

overnment of Japan at Present Auch Drawn to Everything English.

It has been stated on pretty good authority that the leading statesmen of Japan are thinking of making Christianity the established religion of the country, says the Evangelist. When the the mikado assumed his kingly authority one of the first atepa taken was the endowment and establishment of the Shinto religion. And Shintoism is so hroad and comprehensive a belief that it has frequently allowed Christian services to be held in its complex. The comprehensive helding the honor of being the first Protestant hody to commence Christian work in Japan, for Bishop Williams established himself at Tokyo as early as 1859 and translated portions of the prayer book and sittle into the Japanese tongue. Should Japan adopt Christiantiy as a national faith it is not likely that it will take a church exactly to the pattern of either Britch for American Christiantiy, but the Epicopal missionaries in Japan believe that the molding of the Japanese mind with regard to Protestant Christiantiy rests regard to Protestant Christiantiy rests andly, especially as the Japanese government is at present much drawn to everything English.

JAPANESE ARISTOCRACY.

Territorini Lords Surrender Their Powers to Strengthen a Cen-tral Government.

Undoubtedly the most powerful and at the same time acclusive aristocracy was that of the Daimo, or territorial lords of Japan prior to the great social revolution of 1868. There were fewer than 300 of these great lords. Their power within their own protinces was almost absolute, and they owed merely a nominal allegiance to the sovereign. 1et in 1802 211 out of less than 300 powers and their possessions into the hands of the emperor, in order that a centralized government might conduct centralized government might conduct powers and their possessions into the hands of the emperor, in order that a centralized government might conduct may be a supported to the centralized government might conduct more in accordance with those western ideas which the nation was then making up its mind to adopt, and from this surreuder the phenomenal progress of Japan as a world power undoubtedly dates. A somewhat similar case may be found in the history of ilussis, when in the year 156, the boyars, believing known as the Terrible, was about to tesse them to their own intrigues and domestic strikes, laid all the privileges of their order at his feet to induce him return. It was from his act of schlabugation that the traditional autorescy of the Russian empire practically begins.

A SWINDLER CONFESSES.

Fred Freedenheimer, Accased of Gettin, 85,000 From a Lonisville Bank, Ar-rested in Cheinnath

CINCINNATI, June 8.—Fred Freedenheimer, the young Louisville man who was arrested at the Stag hotel Wednesday night on susplein of knowing sometning about the swindling of the German Insurance bank, of Louisville, out of $5,000 Monday, confessed to Chief Deitsch and his father at police headquarters Thursday morning to having been implicated in the affair.
Young Freedenheimer finally told everything, Ile admitted that the forged check carried by the Louisville detectives was the one that had been passed on the bank, and that he was in Louisville Monday.

passed on the bank, and that he was in Louisville Monday.

Ile implicated another man. After his confession the detectives took care to exercise a lookout for a certain young Louisville ex-bank clerk who had given the detectives valuable in-formation.

had given the detectives vaiuable in-formation.
Freedenheimer is an ex-bank clerk of the Falls city, and has been out of work for some time.
Freedenheimer has been playing the races. His funds were rather low, it is said, prior to Monday. When cap-tured Wednesday night he had 598, a new gold watch and chain and receipta for $500 worth of diamonds, bought in Clicinnatt Tuesday. The rings could not be found. The young man refused of discuss how be got the jewelry. After giving Col. Deitsch considerable information young Freedenheimer was taken to a hotel by Detective De Rob-isson and his father. He promised to turn up part of the money taken.
